

12/16/2004

The Breast Cancer Support Center is pleased to announce that the first scholarship to heal breast cancer has been awarded. The grateful recipient is breast cancer survivor Andrea Gibson, a resident of Auburn, CA.

She is receiving three months of holistic wellness (breast cancer) coaching from Dr. Talia Miller, founding director of CA non-profit Breast Cancer Support Center.

Andrea was selected because of her enthusiasm and commitment to holistic healing methods. As an active participant in breast cancer groups in Nevada City and Auburn, she will be able to share some of her personal transformation stories and healing tools and techniques with others, making her scholarship benefit other survivors as well her own recovery process.

The Breast Cancer Support Center is currently seeking donations to provide coaching for other breast cancer survivors who qualify for breast cancer coaching and other healing services through the non-profit.

Utilizing complementary breast cancer treatments such as acupuncture, herbs, coaching, massage and other forms of bodywork, have been shown to remarkably increase survivors sense of well-being and enhance their healing. These complementary and alternative treatment options also minimize the discomforts associated with chemotherapy and the emotional upheaval of dealing with a life-threatening disease. Most of these treatments are not covered by insurance companies. Thus the survivors deal not only with the burden of breast cancer, but with financial burdens as well.

The Breast Cancer Support Center is committed to easing the pain and suffering of women struck with breast cancer, by offering coaching services to those who are dedicated to personal growth and transformation, service to others, and their own healing and recovery.

All donations received go directly to client services to help heal breast cancer and stop breast cancer recurrence.

Currently there two clients awaiting holistic life coaching for breast cancer. The cost for each one to receive three months in the Momentum coaching program, is $831.00.

Donations to fund to this 501c3 non-profit, to benefit scholarship recipients, are accepted at all times - empowering survivors to become thrivers.

To make year-end tax deductible donation arrangements, please email Director@BreastCancerSupportCenter.org or call Dr. Talia Miller at 559-683-7004. For further information, or to apply for a scholarship please visit the website at www.breastcancersupportcenter.org